NEW MILITARY WORK.

Just Published and for Sale,
At the Bookstores of R. Gray, and Cotton and Stewart—
PRICE 4 DOLLARS 50 CENTS.—

Rules and Regulations for the Field Exercise and Manœuvres of the French Infantry, Issued August 1st, 1791; and the Manœuvres added, which have been since adopted by the emperor Napoleon. Also, the Manœuvres of the Field Artillery, with Infantry. By Col. Irenee Amelot de Lacroix, late Chief of Brigade in the French service. In three volumes, the third volume consisting of plates.

The principal part of this work has been translated from French to English, by Lieut. Col. Macdonald, in the service of his Britannick majesty. Col. de Lacroix has not only availed himself of Macdonald's translation, but has retained the principal theories, with which Col M. has enriched his work, especially his comparison of the French tactics with the Prussian, and the principles of the different nations with the English; because those valuable notes are sufficient for such comparisons, and are in point. Col. De L. has augmented those notes.

The introduction of Col. de Lacroix' works will direct the attention of the young Americans to the study of learned tactics, the result of experience, and enable them to obtain the precision desirable in the warrior, for they must be convinced that a good officer forms a good soldier, and that the experience of ages has demonstrated, that the soldier will perform his duty correctly, when he is well commanded.

At the end of the second volume of this work, Col. De Lacroix has added the manœuvres of the field artillery with the infantry, according to the French principles. It is not necessary to lavish praises on the advantage of moving this thundering arm with the same facility and celerity as the line. Europe is now convinced and confesses it. He has added Plates, which demonstrate those manœuvres so essential to the great operations of war, and which will enable officers to execute them.

Col de Lacroix has judged it also expedient to add to this book some new adopted manœuvres, which have been put in practice to great advantage in the face of an enemy. To enhance the value of this work is the only motive could induce him to augment its size.

Twenty Dollars Reward.

ABSCONDED from my farm at the mouth of Seneca, about the 7th of last month, a man whose name is RALPH, 21 years of age, between a black and yellow color, nearly 6 feet high, very stout made, yellowish eyes looking heavy—he has but little to say. His apparel was oznaburg shirts, a negro cotton overjacket and trowsers. It is likely he has made away with them and procured other clothing. A free negro man by name Sambo, living on Judge Washington's estate, Mount Vernon, is his father, and it is very probable he is thereabout or in Alexandria, and with little trouble may be found.

The above reward will be given to secure him in Washington City or Alexandria jail.

THE DAY.

BY DAVIS DEVEROUX, ESQ.

NO. III.

"The rare assemblage, rich amount of mind,"
"Collective light of intellect refin'd."

ALTHOUGH I am not of the tribe of discontented morals who continually execrate their own Day for its manners, morals and modes, and though I would not, I avery exchange it for any other Day past or to come, I yet fancy I perceive certain shades in its complexion which I am however very willing to suppose may only strike my attention from their contrast with its general fairness. Thus, frivolity and nonsense have perhaps an unreasonable share in the Conversation of the Day, while I imagine it might become, in the phrase of Gratian, even the Daughter of Reasoning and the Mother of Knowledge, and these without bewildering Mr. Flutter in the maze of syllogism, or confounding Mr. Dapper amidst the whirling of the spheres.

When I would wish therefore Conversation to be the Daughter of Reasoning, I do not mean that syllogisms should have the least share in her procreation; and when I hail it as the Mother of Knowledge, it is not of prosing lectures nor metaphysical disquisitions: it is as the parent of elegant and chastened wit, of sober reasoning, of the instructive remark; as that delightful interchange of sentiment which should attend the intercourse of intellectual beings.

The prosing pedant who wearies a company with tasteless gleanings from ponderous tomes; the spruce philosopher who insults it with dogmatical paradoxes of modern invention; the matter of fact gentleman, who finds it convenient to think argument beneath his notice; the buck of blood, the sentimental Miss, and the tea sipping votaries of scandal are all practical heretics against genuine Conversation; a tribe which has continued to increase in defiance of all the brands of the indefatigable Inquisition of Wits, Cynics and Satirists. I must believe, however shocking such a notion to the regularly bred disciples of ton and etiquette, that it is not designed merely for the discussion of dress, of the feats of buckism, and the merits of Miss Owenson's Romances, I regard it, prostituted as it is to these contemptible purposes, as I would some stately edifice degraded by the sordid uses of the swineherd.

To the very class of my readers who are best fitted by talent and knowledge to perceive and correct the perversion I speak of, is to be ascribed the greatest share of its blame. That the brainless witling, the sickly plant of a Misses' Boarding-School, and all that tribe which vegetates in the atmosphere of a drawing room, should drink in the stream of frivolity, is not small surprising; but that the worshipers of Science, the Disciples of Taste, who have quaffed at the pure fountains of Genius and Sentiment, should stoop to partake of the muddy stream, is wicked as well as ridiculous. Let such exhibit to the World of Mode Conversation as it should be; let them stand up to oppose its prostitution, and, by shewing it in its own genuine and respectable guise, command the respect, if not the imitation of the frivolous. And I do not believe my Day is deficient in those who might develope its proper features and true colours from the caricature which disguises it in the circles of fashion, would they no longer "bow down unto the" unseemly "Mammon" of the Mode.

Though the buck might sneer, the Miss might titter and the dowager-ess might look quizzically for a time; though the thing should be put down as cants and bores, any thing rather than the conversation of a sensible and intelligent woman is more proper to form the entertainment of a part time of the pompous philosophy of books. It is to her I find Conversation to be the Daughter of Reasoning, the Mother of Knowledge, the Breath of the Soul, the Concerto of Hearts and the Bond of Friendship.

NEW-YORK, June 11.

By the ship Silas Ann, Captain Steele, which arrived at this port on Saturday, the editors of the Mercantile Advertiser have received London papers and Lloyd's Lists to the 3d of May, from which the following articles are taken.

London, May 1.

The master of an American vessel who is arrived from France, states, that he was lately witness to the execution of several Spanish women at St. Sebastians, who were condemned to death for having conveyed provisions to some of their countrymen that were in arms against the French. The same reports that Turreau, the French minister to the United States, was recalled, and that a M. Mounier had been appointed to succeed him.

May 2.

We last night received Paris papers to the 24th ult. but the only articles of intelligence in them in the least degree interesting, have been anticipated by previous arrivals. The Moniteur of the 23d, is almost completely filled with the discussions in the house of commons respecting sir F. Burdett, and the documents recently laid before parliament relative to the misunderstanding between lord Wellington and gen. Cuesta.

An American gentleman is arrived in town, who left Paris a few days ago. Previous to his departure, he had an interview with Gen. Armstrong, who told him he had passports in his possession, to enable him to leave France; and that it was his intention to return home with his family some time between that time and the 1st of June. For this purpose he had purchased a sequestered American vessel. Mr. Armstrong expressed his opinion, that his departure would not be conclusive of a rupture between France and America; inasmuch as Mr. Beckwith Livingston was to succeed him in his diplomatic character.

Whatever may be the termination of the present contest in Spain, it is evident from every account which we receive, that the most determined hostility to the French continues to be manifested by the brave inhabitants of the Peninsula, from one extremity thereof to the other; and that in fact the peace can only be concluded in desolation. St. Sebastians, our readers will observe, is at the foot of the Pyrenees, and therefore adjoining France, and yet from that quarter has the following statement been brought by an American captain: He says, that "The women of the country had, on various occasions, procured provisions, clothing and numerous necessary articles, which, in defiance of all remonstrances, they daily conveyed to small bodies of patriotic troops, who had shewn themselves in the neighborhood. This was at length considered an offence of such enormity against the French government, and a considerable number of those ladies were taken up and tried by a military tribunal, whose sentence consigned 16 to be shot; and the sentence was carried into execution. He saw three of those heroines put to death, which they endured with wonderful fortitude."

Mr. Yorke's commission is now made out as first lord of the admiralty, in the place of lord Mulgrave.

Mr. Dickenson, who accompanied Mr. Mackenzie to Morlaix, is returned, and is most probably the bearer of some new propositions on the part of the French government. From the little haste shewn on the other side of the water to carry into immediate execution the arrangement for an exchange of prisoners, it is to be apprehended that some fresh difficulties have arisen. Mr. Dickenson, however, is very soon to return to Morlaix, to rejoin Mr. Mackenzie. The report of their having proceed to Paris, and been treated with marked distinction, is quite unfounded.

At 3 o'clock this morning we received Dutch papers to the 29th ult. from which we give the following extracts:—

"Paris, April 24.

"It is reported that the prince of Euling will set out in a few days to assume the command in Spain.

"The ministers have gone to Compeigne to hold council with his majesty.

"His majesty the king of Naples has set off for his States, where, upon his arrival, events of the highest importance will most probably take place. The latest advices from Sicily affirm, that some of the inhabitants are discontented with the present government, and that some disturbances have taken place, which are certainly well founded. It is said that the English government have proposed to restore the king of Sicily, if he should be compelled finally to abandon his dominions. He could not be conveyed, not to Malta, but to England. The island is well supplied with provisions, but not so with artillery and ammunition. The English complain of the total incapacity of the inhabitants for military service, and the latter complain of the arrogance of their guests. Numerous reinforcements were anxiously expected from Portugal, to garrison the various fortresses opposite the continent. With this aid, it was hoped that the enemy might be resisted, or at least so far as to secure the safety of the English army.

"Vienna, April 14.

"Our Court Gazette contains a formal contradiction of a report that M. Hruppe had, as Austrian charge d'affaires, notified the marriage of the arch-duchess Maria Louisa to the English secretary of state for foreign affairs. 'We are,' it says, 'authorised to declare, that there is no Austrian charge d'affaires in England, nor any other political agent, who could have made an official notification of the marriage, and consequently that the whole of the article, both in substance and detail, is false and unfounded.'

"His imperial majesty gave an audience to count Otto on the 10th, at six o'clock in the evening, at which he delivered a letter to his majesty from the emperor Napoleon, and seven cordons of the legion of honor. His majesty reserved one for himself, and presented another to the archduke Charles, intending to distribute the rest on a future occasion.

"A letter from Constantinople of the 10th ult. says, 'the grand seignor means to put himself at the head of his Asiatic troops in whom he has greater confidence than in those of Europe. For some time past, he has personally superintended their exercise. The recent disturbances in Macedonia were occasioned by some excesses on the part of the Janissaries, and had no relation whatever to political events. Macedonia, in fact, is one of the provinces that are least desirous of a revolution. Thessaly, and the rest of Greece, openly express their wishes for a change of government."

We are extremely concerned to find, that among other melancholy circumstances resulting from the late disturbances in the capital, his majesty was rendered so unhappy, that he was indisposed for some days, and the effect was the total loss of his remaining sight. But it is with the greatest satisfaction we add, that his majesty is now perfectly recovered, and in as good general health as he ever enjoyed. His majesty is, however, obliged to avail himself of external assistance in his occasional walks, which was not the case before the unfortunate events alluded to. His medical attendants have, we understand, declared that his eye is now fit for the operation, whenever he feels himself disposed to submit to it.

LOUIS PISE,
Painter and Drawing-Master, from Italy,

Alexandria Daily Gazette.

SATURDAY, JUNE 16.

The Hon. J. B. Varnum has been appointed a Senator, in the room of Mr. Pickering.—Ind. Am.

Arrived here the Spanish Commissioners from Caracas; also the Russian Ambassador.—Ibid.

Captain Mather, of ship America, arrived at New York from Canton, reports that all the English and American ships were embargoed at Canton from Jan. 27, to February 22, in consequence of a new difficulty between the English and Chinese, occasioned by a Chinese having been killed by a British seaman; and the English refused to deliver up any one, unless the criminal could be pointed out, which could not be done. It was expected the difficulty would be amicably settled.

On the 3d February official notice was given to Mr. Bourne, the American consul at Amsterdam, "that no American vessel whatever would be admitted into the ports of Holland."—Nat. Intel.

The public have now before them the despatches, received by the John Adams, which we published in a supplementary sheet. They add little to the information previously received; but they place that information in the most unquestionable shape, by giving it an official stamp. Some hope might have been entertained, that our frigate would not have been suffered to depart with unwelcome intelligence. But even that hope is now dissipated; and nothing remains but the manifestation of the naked purpose of the French government to pursue what it considers its line of interest without regarding our interest or rights.—It is possible, that previous to the departure of General Armstrong, some amicable proposition may be made; but they ought not to be expected, much less relied on.

We have not room in this paper further to comment on the despatches; but we cannot refrain from adding, that every American of independent mind must feel a pride at the firm and lofty tone in which general Armstrong vindicates his government against the unfounded insinuations uttered against it.—Ibid.

Captain Long (arrived at Baltimore 15th inst. in the Russie, 42 days from Gluckstadt) says, that all American property in Holland and other places within the grasp of the French, is either already or certainly will be condemned. All the ships and property in the Danish dominions are liberated; but nothing can pass the lines into the interior. A great many American vessels have sailed from Tonningen for St. Petersburg. Such as have sailed with their cargoes on board, paid no duties. The Danish privateers take every thing on suspicion, and they are certainly condemned if seen or known to have been in any British convoy.

IN COMMON COUNCIL,

June 12th, 1810.

ORDERED, That a committee be appointed to enquire into the conduct of the Watch so as to ascertain the streets of the town of Alexandria that they pass through in the performance of their duty and report to the next Council, and that they make application to the captain of the Watch for such information in writing.

Referred to Charles L. Nevitt and John Sutton.

ORDERED, That Edmund I. Lee be added to the committee to wait upon Robert I. Taylor, in conjunction with Wm. Rhodes, Thomas Lawrason, and the President of Council.

The following Resolution was moved and seconded, to wit:

Whereas it appears to the Common Council of Alexandria, by the petition of a number of freeholders and others, inhabitants of the said town, that it is their wish and interest that the Church situate on the west side of Washington street called the Episcopal Church should be removed from its present situation to the south or the same lot of ground; and it also appears by the said petition that the Minister and Vestry of the said church have given their consent to the removal of the same—and it appearing by the report of the committee on the part of the Common Council to whom the said petition was referred, that it is of importance to the town in general, and particularly to that part of it in the neighborhood of the said church that it should be removed, and that it would be proper for the corporation to contribute in some degree to the accomplishment of the prayer of the said petition; and it being stated to the Council that if the Common Council will appropriate 1000 dollars towards the removal of the said church the same can be effected:—

It is therefore Resolved, That the sum of 1000 dollars be appropriated for the purpose of aiding in the removal of the said church: Provided, that the said 1000 dolls. shall not be paid until the Mayor shall in writing inform the Auditor of the corporation that the residue of the money has been paid or secured to be paid. Upon receiving such certificate from the Mayor the Auditor is hereby authorised to issue a warrant for the said 1000 dollars, in favor of such person or persons as the Minister and Vestry of the said church shall authorise to receive the same.

And on the question shall the said resolution pass, the Yeas and Nays were,

YEAS—Messrs. Nevitt, Catlett, Newton and Lee.

NAYS—Messrs. Young, Sutton, Cohagen, Preston, M'Kenzie, Anderson, and Rhodes.

And negatived.

ORDERED, That the report of the committee appointed to bring in a bill for raising a revenue for the present year, together with the communication of the Mayor upon the same subject be published.

NOTICE.

THE Creditors of the house of Clingman and M'Gaw, formerly of Alexandria, merchants, are requested to transmit their respective claims duly authenticated to Geo. W. Strong, esq. counsellor at law, No. 115, Burling Slip, New-York. The object of this request is to ascertain the entire amount of all claims on the said house, in the city of Alexandria and its vicinity, as preparatory to making some proposition for their final adjustment. As it will be impracticable to submit to the creditors any specific proposition, until the whole amount of the debts is known, it is of consequence that they should all attend to this notice; and it is hoped they will not suffer the period for transmitting their accounts to be protracted beyond the 20th day of June next.

GENUINE MEDICINES.

THE LATE RICHARD LEE, JR. OF N. YORK.

As prepared from the original receipts in possession of the subscriber, for whom they are prepared and without whose signatures none are genuine.

Obstinate Coughs, Colds, Asthmas, &c.

Are immediately relieved and speedily cured by the use of

HAMILTON'S ELIXIR FOR COUGHS.

DEAR bought experience has taught thousands that oily and heated medicines, joined with strong opiates or sleepy drugs, repeated doses of which flatter and deceive the patient for the present, by procuring momentary ease; experience, I say, has taught thousands, that the common opiates and balsamics, as they are called, finally aggravate every disorder of the breast and lungs, in their most distressing symptoms: that they cool the stomach and impair the digestion inflame the whole system, increase the difficulty of breathing and excite fever. But the qualities of this valuable discovery are evinced by perfectly opposite effects. A single trial will prove, that it restores the determination of the fluids to the surface of the body, and brings on the common healthful perspiration—that it dislodges and evacuates the tough viscid phlegm or mucus, strengthens the weakened vessels of the lungs, sheathes the acrimonious humor which irritates them, and finally discharges it. Thus striking at the root of the disorder, the symptoms are of course effectually and permanently conquered, the reverse of common medicines, which weaken the constitution and give strength to the disorder for the sake of moderating for the present some of its painful effects.

To parents who have children afflicted with the whooping cough, this discovery is of the first magnitude, as it affords immediate relief, checks the progress, and in a short time entirely removes the most cruel disorder to which children are liable. The elixir is so perfectly agreeable, and the dose so small that no difficulty arises in taking it.

Selected Recommendations.

Being desirous to make public for the good of others, the excellent quality of Hamilton's elixir, prepared by the late Mr. Lee, I have sent you the following account of the benefit I have received from it; which I hope will induce others to give it a trial. In consequence of a bruise on the breast received from a fall, my health grew bad, my breathing became very difficult, and frequently I have had suddenly to rise up in my bed with all the horrors of immediate suffocation.—Add so these a constant pain in my breast, and a cough, a great loss of strength & flesh, and you may conceive that my symptoms evidently indicated an approaching consumption. The advice of a most eminent physician was resorted to, and afterwards a second was called in, but without giving me any relief. Another physician who knew me and the circumstances of my case, advised me to give Hamilton's Elixir a trial, saying he had used it in his practice and always found it to do much good. A bottle was procured from Mr. Birch's, and I found relief before I had taken half of it. I continued to use it & was soon strong to attend to business. On taking cold, some of my former symptoms return, but are always removed by a dose or two of the Elixir.

George Benner, jun.

no. 11. Budd street, Philadelphia.

Mrs. H. Lee, New York.

Mr. Abijah Henly, Bridge street, Baltimore, was cured by one bottle of Hamilton's Elixir, of a very complicated disorder, occasioned by a very severe cold caught several months ago. He breathed with the greatest difficulty, and was often thrown into weakening sweats when he attempted to walk any distance, and his voice would frequently fail in such a degree that he could only attempt to whisper. He has been upwards of six weeks without a return of his complaints; and desires to give his public testimony in favor of this invaluable medicine.

Itch Cured,

By once using Lee's sovereign Ointment. The proprietor informs those persons and families who are suffering under this disease, against the infection of which no person is safe, that if this ointment is used at night on going to bed it never fails to perform a cure by the following morning, as thousands who have used it during the last ten years can testify. The peculiar excellencies of this infallible remedy for the itch, above every other, are the certainty of the cure by a single application; the ingredients being so innocent as to be applied with perfect safety to the tenderest infant; and its being not only free from any offensive smell, but equally agreeable with the pleasantest pomatum.

Dr Hamilton's Grand Restorative,

Which the inventor confidently recommends as an invaluable medicine for the speedy relief, and permanent cure of various complaints which result from disordered digestion, proceeding from whatever cause, as all proceed originally from the derangement of the digestive organs, the immediate consequence of intemperance, the unrestrained use of mercury, the diseases peculiar to females at a certain period of life, bad lyings in, &c.

HAMILTON'S
CELEBRATED WORM DESTROYING LOZENGES.

Among the symptoms attending Worms are, disagreeable breath, especially in the morning—bad and corrupt gums—itching at the nose, and about the seat—convulsions, epileptic fits, and sometimes a privation of speech—irregular appetite, sometimes loathing food and sometimes voracious—purging with slimy and fœtid stools—vomiting—large and hard belly—pains and sickness at the stomach—pains in the head and thighs, with lowness of spirits—slow fever, with small and irregular pulse—a dry cough—excessive thirst—sometimes pale and unhealthy countenance, and sometimes the face bloated and flushed

Persons afflicted with any of the above symptoms, should have immediate recourse to Hamilton's Worm Destroying Lozenges which have been constantly attended with success in all complaints similar to those above described.
